Wolters Kluwer set for new cooperation with COMPANY COMPANY realises 2nd Annual Forum for Human Resources & Industry

Following the successful premiere of the "1st Annual Forum for Human Resources & Industry", trade journal "Personalwirtschaft" (Wolters Kluwer publishing company) has again commissioned COMPANY to plan and realise the second forum this coming autumn.

For the first time in its 35-year history, trade journal "Personalwirtschaft" staged its own congress, offering its readers and other interested parties a forum for discussion, networking and exchange, on November 7 and 8, 2007 in Cologne. With its motto of "The race for the best minds" the "1st Annual Forum for Human Resources & Industry" was all about talent management and successful strategies in the labour market.

Now planned as a regular event, future congresses will address a variety of human resources management topics, giving academics and experts a new platform for exchanging opinions and ideas with the aim of improving human resources work.

The "2nd Annual Forum for Human Resources & Industry" will be held October 28 – 29, 2008 in Cologne. More details about the agenda and speakers will be announced later.
